Hotels full for Parent's Weekend

MADSEN

Charleston Chamber of Commerce is looking for a few more.

to accommodate parents who are here to get hotel reservations for Parent's Weekend (Nov. 5-6), the chamber is asking Charleston residents to host visiting parents this weekend.

In its fourth year, the Weekend Bed and Breakfast program provides visiting parents with a private room, access to a bath, a light breakfast and warm welcome to Charleston . . . all for about $37 per couple.

"Eastern had contacted us to see if there was something we could do to fill the need," said Chamber Director Iris Campbell. "I think it's really great," she noted. "The parents wouldn't be able to come down otherwise. Hotels in Mattoon and Charleston are already booked, and some parents are staying in hotels as far away as Tuscola and Effingham."

Students can call the Chamber at 345-7041 to obtain more information on the program. Campbell said parents will be required to fill out an application, send a check and will then be matched with a host family in Charleston.

"We try to match like families," she said. "Whether it's by hobby or occupation, we try to make sure they have something in common."

Campbell said about 80 sets of parents took advantage of the bed and breakfast program last year, and this year she expects even more.

"We already have about 60 to 65 hosts. Some families host more than one couple thought, so we could still use some more volunteers," she said.

Families who are willing to volunteer their home for the weekend should also call the chamber.

Campbell noted the program not only gives parents a place to stay, but generates friendships as well.

"It's just been marvelous. Many parents who have come down and stayed here have been here more than one year and they ask to stay with that family again," she said.

"It (the bed and breakfast program) creates some really good friendships. There are some parents who even exchange Christmas card with the host family now."

Gunmen stage massacre in church

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Men armed with guns and machetes burst into the church of a militant Roman Catholic priest Sunday and killed at least three parishioners, wounded 60 and burned down the building witnesses and news reports said.

Police stood near the church but none came to the rescue, witnesses said. After the attack, gangs of men roamed the streets and stoned the offices of two groups opposed to the military regime of Lt. Gen. Henri Namphy.

The Rev. Jean-Bertrand Aristide, an outspoken opponent of the military government, had just begun at 9 a.m. (9 a.m. EDT) Mass when a group of men began throwing rocks at the church, panicking hundreds inside who rushed for the doors, said a foreign journalist attending the service.

"Suddenly the doors at the back of the church burst open and 20 to 30 men with machetes, huge sticks and guns came in. They were dressed in civilian clothes," said the journalist, who contacted The Associated Press in New York by telephone.

"They started shooting people, beating them, and stabbing and slashing them," the reporter said. "They stabbed a woman who was pregnant. They stabbed another man who ran outside the church. He died. Some people were shot."

Estimates of the numbers of parishioners in the church ranged from 600 to 1,500.

The journalist, speaking on condition of anonymity, said at least three parishioners were killed. Parishioners surrounded and protected Aristide, who was uninjured.

Radio Haiti-Inter reported 60 people suffering from gunshot wounds and machete slashes were being treated at the public general hospital.

Firefighters responded around 10 a.m., but the fire gutted the modest cement-block church and the roof collapsed before the blaze was extinguished.

Aristide is one of the most popular opposition leaders in Haiti. There have been several attempts on his life blamed on

Parking problems

Yellowstone flames ignite fear: Residents afraid of losing homes

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK, Wyo. (AP)—Buffalo residents are looking at the flames with a mixture of sadness and fear, but people are not reacting hysterically, and residents once worried about losing business to forest fires now fear losing their homes.

As destroyed buildings around the Old Faithful geyser and threatened tourist towns on the periphery of the country's first national park.

Montana towns of Cooke City and Silver Gate outside the park's northeast entrance were evacuated twice last week. Jardine, near the northern gate, was evacuated Saturday.

Firefighters saved Cooke City and Silver Gate, but only by burning thousands of acres of forest to remove fuel from the fire's path. Controlled backfires left the once-picturesque towns flanked by skeletal trees.

"We can do ... is herd it around improvements and structures and get anybody killed," said Bob Martines, a structure protection officer in Cooke City.

The 2.2 million-acre park, dedicated in 1872, attracts more than 2 million visitors a year who marvel at geysers and hot springs, scenic scenery and wild animals.

Many tourists have stayed away in droves this summer, and residents of tourism-dependent towns around the park have complained bitterly about the Park Service's initial reluctance to respond to the fires.

"A guy gets really bitter when it keeps dragging on and on and on," said David Klatt of Cooke City, who spent three days in a motel room outside of town last week, waiting out an evacuation.

In this summer of heat and drought, Yellowstone is suffering the worst fires in at least 200 years.

Fires have charred 883,000 acres of Yellowstone since June in what firefighters call the worst fire season in the West in 30 years.

Light snow and low temperatures also helped firefighters in Idaho, where wind gusted to 60 mph, and Montana, where evacuated residents of some ranches and small communities were allowed to return home.

Rain and lower temperatures dampened fires in Colorado, but 45 mph wind gusts whipped a Boulder County fire to 1,830 acres and led six families to evacuate. Heavy rains later Sunday stalled the fire and residents were allowed to return home. Fires in the Routt National Forest were left unattended because the weather was too

Guard station to stay open

WASHINGTON—U.S. House and Senate conferees have approved legislation aimed at preventing the closing of a Coast Guard rescue facility at Glenview Naval Air Station, Illinois' senators have announced.

The measure is expected to pass both houses in final form as early as this week, and Democratic Sens. Alan Dixon and Paul Simon expressed confidence that the threatened helicopter station that aids boaters in southern Lake Michigan will remain open.

Freight train derails

CHICAGO—A Norfolk and Western freight train derailed Sunday morning, sending one of its cars smashing into a South Side apartment building, but authorities said no one was hurt.

The accident occurred shortly before 5:45 a.m. near the entrance to Norfolk's Lander railyard, said fire department spokesman Jerry Lawrence.

"At least one car derailed into a building," Lawrence said. Firefighters at the scene ordered the residents of the three-flat evacuated when a gas leak was discovered in the building, Lawrence said.

Police search for missing child

MIDLOTHIAN, Ill. (AP)—A 7-year-old girl vanished from her home, and police used a helicopter, canine units and all-terrain vehicles Sunday to search for the child who they say may have been kidnapped.

A team of about 10 FBI agents was assisting local police in investigating the girl's disappearance from her home in this suburb south of Chicago, said Midlothian Police Capt. John Bittin.

The girl, Jaclyn Dowaliby, was apparently abducted from her Midlothian home late Friday or early Saturday, Bittin said.

"We're keeping an open mind on whether it was an actual kidnapping or an abduction involving relatives," Bittin said. "We don't have any solid leads as to one direction or another. We haven't eliminated anything."

"We're treating it as an apparent abduction until we come up with evidence to show otherwise," the captain said.

Jaclyn was last seen Friday at around 10:30 p.m. when her mother, Cindy Dowaliby, checked her bedroom before going to sleep, Bittin said.

The girl's stepfather, Dowaliby, who has legally adopted her, noticed the front door to their home ajar Saturday morning at 8 a.m.

He then checked the bedrooms of Jaclyn and her 5-year-old brother, and called police at 10:30 a.m. after discovering the girl missing.

Police originally suspected the girl's natural father, Guess, may have abducted her but he was found serving time in Florida prison, Bittin said.

Inventor criticizes FTC decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is ignoring a complaint that the energy industry has thwarted sales of a furnace hood that can save fuel and reduce pollution, says the Illinois plumber who invented it.

Donald L. Smith of Bolingbrook said the Federal Trade Commission bowed to big business when it dropped an investigation aimed at the American Gas Association, a group representing utilities and natural gas pipeline companies.

Smith, a 64-year-old journeyman plumber, invented the furnace draft hood in 1959 and received a patent in 1983. He said the unit, sold as the En-R-Tech system, improves furnace efficiency by slowing the rate at which exhaust fumes escape, trapping heat normally lost through the chimney.

The system has produced fuel savings topping 50 percent, and Smith said his company, En-r-Tech International Inc., guarantees it will cut heating bills by 25 percent.

"That's why the utilities and manufacturers are fighting it," said. "They don't want anything in the market that will hurt their business."

Smith's FTC complaint charged that AGA-member utilities conspired with heating-equipment manufacturers to discourage sales of the hoods by threatening to void purchasers' furnace warranties and discontinue their service.

Women with an unplanned pregnancy can get advice at local ministry

DEBBIE BULLWINKEL

Women who are faced with an unplanned pregnancy do not have to face the situation social worker Sherry Low can advise women at Eastern Illinois Save-A-Baby Ministries (EISABM) at its new location, 914 Monroe Ave.

EISABM consults in time of need when a woman about pregnancy must be made.

EISABM, which originated in August 1984, had "no affiliation with the university. It was just the fact that it was a locale--Eastern Illinois," Low said.

Businessman Tim Yow and others got together, all of whom had an interest in creating a non-profit organization in Charleston.

They (the businessmen) basically saw the need for men and women going through unplanned pregnancies," Low said.

They felt there wasn't any hands-on help in the community other than public aid or health agencies to provide for this situation," Low added.

Low and EISABM official board member contacted Save-A-Baby Ministries in Arlington, Va., and sent a representative to Charleston.

The organization spread by word-of-mouth and basically wanted to find out the commitment level of people in this community," Low said.

She added, "the vision was to establish a pregnancy center, to meet the client initially when calling for a pregnancy test or abortion."

Charleston Community Church donated the house to EISABM in November 1984, but wasn't used to house the mothers due to financial problems.

The house will be used to home unwed mothers and their babies in the future, but currently women can get counseling in the maternity home.

"Although the dream of the house hasn't actually taken off, we want people to realize that we're still helping people," Low said.

EISABM is a non-profit organization. "Funding comes from interested, private individuals, families and a small group of Christians from interdenominational churches--the core of our financial realm," she added.

However, some women have been allowed to live in the house on a temporary basis until financial aid or assistance is provided.

Another means of housing provided for pregnant women is shepherding homes, when a family invites a pregnant woman to live with them, Low said.

"My husband and I have housed three pregnant women ourselves," said Low.

EISABM helps to prepare the pregnant woman and to explore possible decisions.

"We advise on what abortions are, what the risks are because many people; when an unplanned pregnancy arises, the first thing that comes to mind is 'I don't see how I can have this baby,'" Low said.

"That's why we're here--to prepare them on their decision, to abort, parent or adopt. We certainly lean towards having the baby," added Low.

More than 50 percent of EISABM clients are Eastern students while serving about a six county area.

Low hopes to establish a pregnancy center on campus in the future.

"We're supposed to have 10 student signatures if it's just a student organization, but we're opening it up to faculty--we are looking to adult models," Low said.

The organization will be called Eastern Illinois University Pregnancy Ministries, Low said.

The bi-laws basically state that they (the student volunteers) will provide information, participate in fund-raising activities, perhaps help to pay rent, take part in counseling and even partake in the actual birth of a baby in the means of a labor coach.

Anyone interested in being a part of EISABM can attend the organizational meeting at 3:30 p.m., September 13 at 914 Monroe Ave. If unable to attend the meeting, call Low at 345-5000 or Audrey Knox at 581-3629.

Students can enlist vote at Eastern

By CATHY PODWOJSKI
Staff writer

Eastern students have the chance to make their voices heard in this fall's national election, but only if students register and use their right to vote.

The Student Vote Campaign, sponsored by Student Senate, will allow students to become registered in Coles County by one of the 14 senate members deputized as an official registrar.

BOG representative Patty Kennedy organized the program which will be continuing through Sept. 30 in an effort to register as many students as possible.

The senate members registered and were deputized at senate's first meeting of the fall semester. Senate has been organizing their ongoing campaign since that time.

Students interested in registering must bring two forms of identification such as a student ID or driver's license. One type of identification must prove the student's campus address, such as a piece of mail, Kennedy said.

Students may register at the following times and places:

- Monday and Sept. 20, from 4:45 p.m. to 5:45 p.m. in the food services of Carman Hall, Pemberton Hall, Stevenson and the Triad.

- Tuesday, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union on the second floor by the Sugar Shack.

- Wednesday, from 4:45 to 5:45 in the food services of Andrews, Thomas, Lawson and Taylor Halls.

- Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Coleman Hall.

- Friday and Sunday, from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the movie sponsored by the Union Board in the Grand Ballroom.

- Monday, Sept. 19, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in Coleman Hall.

Disease hits after floods

DHAKA, Banoladesh (AP) Flood waters began to recede Sunday, and the government has said it has received $236 million in aid to fight the destruction and disease caused by the worst floods in memory.

Thousands of lives were threatened by diarrhea caused by drinking water contaminated with sewage and garbage washed up by raging flood waters, health officials said. More than 200,000 people have contracted the disease and at least 123 have died from it, said the officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity. The disease kills by dehydration.

Student Speaker makes 'educational' change

CATHY PODWOJSKI

It's never too late to change your goals.

Student Senate Speaker Jane Clark, a junior, changed her major from education to a double political science and journalism major.

"Education is very important to how far you can go in your career. And for me, the personal aspect is important," Clark Clark's responsibilities include running senate committees and chairs, serving as a resource for the senate and students, basically answering questions, directing people to where they need the answers.

Clark, 20, receives a salary of $3.35 an hour, not to exceed 48 hours a month. She welcomes visitors in a personable and open manner, which according to her own definition enables her to better aid students.

Her qualifications extend beyond an outgoing personality. "I'd like to see the student body more aware and involved with what goes on around campus," Clark said.

Clark worked hard the first week of school, to engineer Organization Day, which introduced students to campus groups including fraternities, sororities and student government.

Student government is fairly new to Clark. Formerly, a staff writer for The Daily Eastern News, Clark became interested in government through an article she read in the newspaper, and eventually won a seat in the residence hall district. She later petitioned on for her position as student speaker.

Clark, herself, is relatively new to Eastern. She attended Northern Illinois University her freshman year as an elementary education major. Clark decided she "wanted to get into something to do with politics," so after visiting Eastern in the summer, she transferred her sophomore year.

Along with the change of campus, Clark changed her major to political science.

Clark's two brothers graduated from Eastern and had been associated with The Daily Eastern News, which motivated Clark to also become a journalism major, she said.

Clark said she combined her journalistic experience and love of politics last summer at the Conference on Student Government Affairs at Texas A & M University.

Clark, along with fellow senate members Executive Vice President Andrea Pyle and BOG Representative Patty Kennedy, were chosen to attend by former Student Body President Deb Camren on the basis of essays they had written, Clark said.

Clark said she intends to obtain her master's degree and pursue a public service career. "I'd like to see me working in politics at the national level," said added.

Jane Clark

- Student Senate Speaker
- Hometown — Chatham
- Junior — Journalism/Political Science major
- Served as a Student Senator and in Residence Hall District prior to election as Speaker.
- Goals for office
 - 1) Make the student body become more aware and involved with what goes on around campus.
 - 2) Give groups and activities more publicity so students will be aware of their choices.

Salary talks in a step in right direction

The University Professionals of Illinois and the Board of Governors should be commended for providing a much-needed salary increase for faculty and academic support professionals at the five BOG universities.

Editorial Academic employees at Chicago State University, Northeastern Illinois University, Western Illinois University, Governors State University and Eastern will finally see the end of a two-year salary freeze.

Hopefully, the pay hike will persuade faculty who have been looking to leave Illinois to stay and bring an end to faculty flight.

Last year alone more than 70 faculty members in the BOG system left for higher paying jobs. When these experienced faculty leave, they take a part of the university with them. A part that isn't easy to replace.

These faculty members take with them a part of the academic quality and experience a university is noted for. They also make it difficult to keep on staff other instructors who may start thinking of leaving.

The tentative agreement which was reached last week calls for an immediate 5.7 percent salary increase for all academic employees. Some faculty will also receive a .33 percent increase effective Sept. 1 for promotions and degree completions.

In addition, qualified faculty will receive further increases in February for market adjustments and merit awards. These long-overdue increases show the BOG universities are finally ready to move forward and pay its faculty what it deserves.

However, the fair share provision of the agreement, which requires non-union faculty members to pay a percentage of union dues, has some faculty worried. In fact, one Eastern instructor is filing a complaint with the Illinois Education Labor Review Board because he says fair share is actually "forced unionism". But the union disagrees.

With less than half of Eastern's faculty claiming union membership, UPI should be persuading non-members to join, not forcing them to pay dues to a union they choose not to be a part of.

If the faculty union could increase its membership perhaps it could attain even greater salary increases in the future through increased unity and support.

Editor-in-chief owns up to mistake

If I had to pick my all time favorite TV shows, I wouldn't even have to think about it before adding "The Brady Bunch" to the list.

Like most people my age, I guess, I've seen about every episode there is and know all the words to the theme song by heart.

My favorite, though, has to be the one where Bobby, disobeying the instruction of his parents, gets his best suit all dirty.

Instead of confessing his disobedience and owning up to the dirt on his suit, Bobby tries to wash the suit himself so no one would know what he's done.

The scene that followed left viewers laughing hysterically as Bobby used too much laundry detergent, flooded the Brady laundry room in several feet of suds and ended up by shrinking his best suit by a couple of sizes.

Although there are several lessons which can be learned here (actually "Brady Bunch" episodes always had several lessons to be learned), one of the most important things I always got out of it was that it's always better to be honest and confess your mistakes. That, and it's always easier for people to forgive you if you own up and apologize.

I guess that's what I'm hoping for now from our readers of The Daily Eastern News--to accept my apology and hope they'll forgive us here at the News.

A couple of incidents have occurred which I'm not proud of--in fact, I'm ashamed. I'm also very sorry.

The first incident involves a story in the Sept. 8 edition entitled "Sigma Pi fraternity proud of its tradition."

The story was a feature about the Sigma Pi fraternity and some awards they had won. A picture of some members with their trophy accompanied the article.

In running the article as we did, we were wrong about a couple of things.

First of all, the story was ran the second day of rush, which gave the Sigma Pi's an unfair advantage over the other fraternities in recruiting new members.

Unfortunately, in making the decision to run the story when we did, the executive staff, all of whom are not involved with the greek system, was not aware rush had just begun. Had we known and had we realized the unfair advantage we were giving one fraternity over another, we would not have ran the article when we did.

The second big problem with the story was that there was no real news value. As it turned out, all of the awards won by the Sigma Pi's were won last year, not this year. Even the trophy in the photo was last year's trophy.

In letting a source tell us what was news instead of deciding for ourselves, we were suckered. We ran a feature that didn't have the news value we thought it did, and we came out with egg on our faces.

After a story has been published, there's not much that can be done about it--except apologize and make amends.

We do apologize. We've tried to make amends by running features on all the other fraternities in this edition.

The other incident I want to apologize for involves a story published in the Sept. 2 edition of the News entitled "Bands pump out reactions uptown."

The first problem with the article is that one of our staff members, Robb Montgomery, is a member of the band "Pump," which was one of the bands the article was about.

While the article was both timely and newsworthy, we here at the News should have told our readers upfront that one of the members of the band also happens to be our graphic editor.

The second problem with the article is a much more serious one.

The article was written by Robb Montgomery.

And, no matter how newsworthy and factually objective the article is in reality, the fact that Robb Montgomery wrote the article makes it lose all credibility. It also makes it sound like we're trying to deceive our readers and toot our own horn.

To quote from The Daily Eastern News Stylebook: "A journalist shall not be allowed to file a story where a conflict of interest is real or apparent. News should be free of opinion or bias and represent all sides of an issue. Special articles or presentations devoted to advocacy or the writer's own conclusions and interpretations should be labeled as such."

We were wrong. Not only that, we were unethical, which is one of the biggest crimes a journalist or newspaper can commit.

Truth, the whole truth, is the foundation of a newspaper.

The truth isn't always happy or good. In this case, it often is the case with truth, the truth happens to be extremely unpleasant. We've been wrong and we apologize.

But just because we've had two unfortunate incidents doesn't mean all our news can't be true. Usually we are fair, objective and accurate.

But, like any human, we make mistakes.

My only hope now is that our readers will excuse these two incidents and continue to put their faith in the latest news.

The Daily Eastern News is an award-winning publication, a status I've committed myself to maintaining.

My only hope now is that our readers will forgive us, our errors and allow us to continue the high standards and the work to which we here at The Daily Eastern News have dedicated ourselves.

Chrystal Philpott is the editor-in-chief and a regular columnist for The Daily Eastern News.

Eastern Senate Speaker Jane Clark said registration table will be set up this week in residence halls and food services to give students the opportunity to register.

Registration tables will also be set up throughout the University Union to give off-campus students a local outlet to register.

To be eligible to register to vote, students must be 18 years old and a resident of their particular precinct for 30 days on or before Nov. 8.

If students have changed their address or name, they must update their voter registration by Oct. 11.

Students must also be citizens of the United States and must show two forms of identification, one of which must show their current Coles County address.

The Coles County Clerk's office will also be open from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Oct. 1 and Oct. 8, for voter registration.

Sigma Phi has no rush 'theme': strives to reach philosophy goals

By KIM HOFFMEISTER
Staff writer

During rush week, the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity stands on its philosophy of striving for academic excellence and a close brotherhood.

Delta Phi has no overall theme for rush because, according to Secretary Jon Hildebrand, "We just like to get to know the guys who come through."

Delta Sigma Phi has about 51 active members. The president of Delta Sigma Phi is Bob Lichtuss, vice president is Todd Greffin and treasurer is Jim Reed.

Between 20 and 30 pledges are expected this year, as compared to 26 pledges last fall, said Hildebrand.

Thursday night, the fraternity featured mud wrestling and has planned many other activities including a softball tournament and formal and informal gatherings.

Contrary to most fraternities, the Delta Sigma Phis don't have many parties with sororities because they feel it is easier to get to know their pledges without females around.

Delta Sigma Phi was started nationally in 1899, and at Eastern in 1961.

The fraternity house is located at 1705 9th Street, and has been there for about fifteen years. The cost to live in the house is around $270 a year, said Hildebrand.

Delta Sigma Phi is mainly a social fraternity. The national chapter gives scholarships, but Eastern's chapter does not. It does, however, give out various awards, including Outstanding Active, Athlete of the Year and a Scholarship Award.

Lambda Chi 'pledge' associates

Lambda Chi Alpha may be more new compared to other fraternities, but they promote more brotherhood said Athans.

"Basically we're a bunch of friends we hold our ritual in common," said Athans, vice president of Lambda Chi Alpha.

There are 35 actives in the fraternity they hope to increase that number by rush is over Wednesday.

"We really don't have a goal set for rush, we're concerned more with quality than quantity," said Athans.

Smallest frat has large value list

By REBECCA GAMBILL
Activities editor

The men of Sigma Nu, Eastern's smallest fraternity holds truth, love, honor and academics high on its list of values, said Sigma Nu President Tim Taylor.

A part of campus since spring 1985, Sigma Nu received its charter on May 3, 1986. The first year, Taylor said, the fraternity operated as a colony or trial fraternity.

The Sigma Nu house, 1515 Ninth St., is very new to the fraternity. They acquired the house in August. Prior to having the house, the fraternity operated out of the Martin Luther King Jr. University Union. Having the house gives the men a place of their own to operate, Taylor noted.

With only 15 men, Sigma Nu can be a very close-knit group. "As small as we are, they (the values) really expand, and the brotherhood really shows, said Taylor.

Academic achievement is a very important part of a Sigma Nu's life. Taylor said that the fraternity has had the highest grade point average of all the fraternities at Eastern three out of the last four semesters.

The national fraternity offers scholarships based on grades, involvement and many other points. They look for "an all-around person," Taylor said.

Last year the Sigma Nu's won second place for their homecoming float with their Little Sisters. They also won first place in the informal greek sing.

"The President Switch" earned $400 for the Big Brother- Big Sister program of Coles County last year. Taylor said that a fraternity member took the place of the administrator that day, while the administrator went to the student's classes.

Other community projects have involved raking yards for senior citizens and picking apples for the area Food Pantry.

Sigma Nus are proud of the number of functions planned with sororities on campus. Being a new fraternity sometimes makes it difficult to plan these activities, said Taylor.

They plan to participate in the Barn Dance, Homecoming and Greek Week, Taylor noted.

They also plan to attend both their national chapter and the area of College of Chapters held at Illinois State University this year.

Sigma Nus are very proud of their Little Sister program. It is the oldest on campus and recently took 23 new members.

Taylor hopes that they will bring in 10 to 15 pledges through formal rush. He also expects to gain about 10 more through informal rush.

The "tanline contest" last Thursday drew 40 to 45 rushees, said Taylor, and a great time was had by all.

Activities for the remainder of rush are a bachelor's party on Monday, a country club party on Tuesday and the "formal smoker" on Wednesday. All events are scheduled for 7 p.m.

The fraternity does not have a house mother as of now however, Taylor said that they hope to have one when they move to Greek Court.

Without a house mother, the members share the responsibilities of the house. When they do get a house mother, said Taylor, the men will continue to have these responsibilities. "We feel it's important to be responsible for our own house."

Taylor supports the idea of Greek Court saying, "I think eventually it will be a reality. The fraternity and sorority houses are going downhill...I think this is the answer."

Sigma Nu currently rents their house; therefore, there should be no problem when they move to Greek Court, said Taylor.

After rush, the Lambda Chi pledges considered associate members. They are allowed to vote and to hold office. When they learn certain facts about the fraternity they are able to go active.

The Phi Alpha Zeta chapter at Eastern was started as a colony in 1975. In 1976 they were recognized by the national organization, and in the following year they acquired their house at 1532 Fourth St.

The national fraternity was founded in 1911 at Boston University.

Besides promoting brotherhood, Lambda Chis also contribute to important causes. In January, they decided to sponsor a 12-year-old boy, Dudh Kumar, who was in Calcutta, India. Their money was used for his education and overall well-being.

The Lambda Chis are anxious about Homecoming. "We are going to go for it and we would like to win the float parade also. We're going to go for it all," Athans said.

The fraternity members are also excited about their Christmas project. Each year they sponsor pictures taken with

Delta Tau Delta fraternity excels at national level

Eastern fraternity chapter wins 1987 Hugh Shields Award for excellence

By RUSSELL STARE
Managing editor

Excuses are a dime a dozen to explain why no accomplishments have been made when a group is new.

But Delta Tau Delta fraternity doesn't need to make any excuses. All they need to do is hold up their banner for winning the Hugh Shields Award for 1987 for any doubters.

"We are the youngest chapter ever to win this award at just seven years old," said Mike Riordan, Delta Tau Delta chapter guide.

The award is given to 10 chapters nationwide and Canada. The winner must excel in academics, show good chapter management, uphold campus and community relations, alumni and public relations and promote membership education through guest speakers and programs, said Chapter President Barry Ulrich.

Each chapter, 125 nationwide and in Canada, register annual reports and in turn graded by the national headquarters for Delta Tau Delta in Indianapolis, Ind.

The final grade determining who receives the award is based on these annual reports using 20 percent of the grade for each of the five categories.

Ulrich said Hugh Shields was a past international president for Delta Tau Delta and played an active part in the fraternity on the national level in the 1950s.

The Eastern chapter of Delta Tau Delta was formed in 1981 and currently has 74 members, Riordan said.

Delta Tau Delta fraternity was originally formed at Bethany College in West Virginia in 1858.

The group was started as a literary society designed to promote brotherhood. "This is pretty common with most fraternal organizations," Riordan noted.

During rush week, he said the chapter generally takes in 20-25 new pledges.

"Each chapter has in mind how many pledges they want," Riordan said.

During fall rush, Ulrich said, "We're going to try to take a pretty selective pledge class" to keep the number of members down. Last year, the number of members was close to 90 and Ulrich said it was difficult to keep track of everyone involved.

Riordan said Delta Tau Delta does not participate in any type of informal rush. He said they usually have enough pledges following the formal dry rush sponsored by the interfraternity council.

Informal rushes are used to allow more prospective members to visit the fraternity if more members are desired following rush week.

"There's a good social interaction going on at all these parties" during rush week, Riordan added.

Delta Tau Delta plans parties for the week according to a theme, he said.

"We have themes for each party," Riordan said.

This year's main theme is "Coast to Coast with the Deltas."

Pledges have no definite time to meet requirements to be in Delta Tau Delta, Ulrich said. "We don't set a time. It's just whenever they meet all their stuff."

Although no hazing is practiced in Delta Tau Delta, pledges do participate in Delt Development Week once the requirements have been met.

"We put a definite emphasis on this, that we don't haze at all," Ulrich said.

He said Delt Development Week is when Riordan's job comes into play.

The chapter guide is responsible for all ceremonies performed during initiation.

"We do the ceremonies through memorization so we can put some emphasis on the actual ritual instead of verbatim from the actual book," Ulrich added. "It really sets the mood."

Besides taking active part in the American Red Cross, the fraternities national charity, Ulrich said the Eastern chapter also helps with a yearly dance-a-thon for leukemia to benefit local charities.

"We kind of want to keep our money we raise in the community," Ulrich said.

Riordan said, to dispell any fears a prospective member may have about costs of being in a fraternity, that fees to be in a fraternity organization run about the same as living in an apartment.

Each month, Riordan said, members are responsible for paying $30 to handle house and administrative costs and for planning. Members who live in the house must pay an additional fee to handle room and board.

He said all extra costs, such as souvenirs from functions, are determined by the individual member.

With this system, it is possible to get members who fit the requirements of the chapter instead of just those who can afford it, as shown in the fraternity's academic record.

Delta Tau Delta has had the pleasure of placing first or second every semester among the fraternities on campus in academics without really pushing the members, Ulrich said.

"We're not trying to force anybody to do anything. We just have fun."

Iraq's gas use prompts concern

WASHINGTON (AP)—Iraq's use of poison gas against its Kurdish minority is prompting concern that other nations bogged down in armed conflict might resort to the "silent killer" in violation of a universally accepted ban on use of chemical weapons.

According to U.S. officials, there is little question that Iraq's use of mustard gas against Iranian forces influenced Iran's decision to end their eight-year old Persian Gulf war last month.

Almost immediately after the cease-fire took effect, Iraq launched an offensive against its Kurdish minority as suspected collaborators with Iran. Tens of thousands of Kurds were forced to flee into southern Turkey.

Last week, about nine days after the first reports of Iraqi chemical warfare began to circulate, Secretary of State George P. Shultz said he was convinced the allegations were true.

Shultz accused the Iraqis of "unjustifiable and abhorrent" behavior.

"I don't want a lot of hype. I just want something I can count on."

cold and wet for firefighters.

And in northwest Oregon, the state Department of Forestry shut down millions of acres of state-protected forests in an unprecedented effort to curb the number of fires caused by human carelessness.

Thin smoke from the Yellowstone fires has drifted as far east as Pennsylvania and New York at an altitude of 15,000 to 20,000 feet, the National Weather Service said Sunday.

"A couple days ago most of the smoke was over the the Midwest and it has now gradually drifted eastward," said Brian Smith of the Severe Storms Center in Kansas City, Mo. "It's just going to have a thin hazy appearance and might create some colorful sunsets, but it's not expected to present any health problems because it's so far up."

The 263,400-acre North Fork fire in Yellowstone remained about a mile from park headquarters at Mammoth Hot Springs, said spokeswoman Marty Tobias. That fire also has threatened West Yellowstone, Mont., and destroyed several buildings at Old Faithful geyser.

Park officials Saturday ordered all families and nonessential employees to leave Mammoth, near the park's north entrance. But they were allowed back after conditions improved. Tobias did not know how many people decided to return.

The improved weather allowed park officials to reopen Yellowstone's west entrance and the road from there to Madison Junction and Old Faithful. The rest of the park remained closed to visitors.

Ten miles northeast of Mammoth, residents of Jardine, Mont., also were allowed to return, Tobias added. They were evacuated Saturday when fire threatened the only exit road.

Evacuated residents of Cooke City and Silver Gate, Mont., at the northeast gate to Yellowstone, were allowed to return home Sunday and the highway leading into the area was reopened, said fire information officer Nick Tafoya.

Puppy doing fine after eating $3.42

BLOOMINGTON (AP)—Puppies will be puppies, and puppies like to swallow things. But $3.42? In small change?

Baby, a 14-pound American bull terrier who had to have 10 ounces of junk surgically removed from her stomach, swallowed seven quarters, seven dimes, seven nickels and 62 pennies. She also consumed four washers, a nail more than an inch long, a house key on a key ring, a token from a pizza parlor, a small piece of electrical wire and some pellets from a shotgun shell.

Kelli Brown noticed Baby was acting a little sluggish and took her to Dr. Phil L. Curry, who told her a ray of the dog's stomach showed a "huge blob."

Curry said that during the operation he and his assistants kept hunting and kept finding things.

A101 Freshman Orientation

Nothing could have prepared me for the first few moments with my roommate. "Anique"—nothing more, just "Anique"—was her name. Change the "A" to a "U" and you've got a description.

When they asked what type of roommate I wanted, I didn't know that I needed to be more specific than non-smoker. I could swear I saw a picture of Anique on a postcard I got from London. Within five minutes, I found out that she was an Art History student, into the Psychedelic Furs, and totally, totally against the domestication of animals.

I was just about ready to put in for a room transfer when she reached into her leather backpack, pulled out a can of Suisse Mocha and offered me a cup. Okay, I decided I'd keep an open mind.

As we sipped our cups, I found out that Anique and I share the same fondness for Cary Grant movies, the same disdain for wine coolers, and the same ex-boyfriend. That gave us plenty to talk about.

New AIDS law stirs up controversy

CHICAGO (AP)—The head of the Illinois State Medical Society's AIDS committee has resigned because of the society's support of a law that allows doctors to test patients for the deadly virus without their consent.

Dr. Richard J. Sasseti, chairman of the society's Ad Hoc Committee on AIDS resigned his post because the law's passage and "the curious absence of input" from the committee "suggest a somewhat less than meaningful role for the committee," according to a resignation letter obtained by The Chicago Tribune.

Signed last week by Gov.

James Thompson, the law has been roundly criticized by gay organizations, state and local health officials and some physicians.

The law allows health care workers who come into contact with the bodily fluids of a patient thought to be infected with Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome to request a test without the patient's permission.

Sasseti, in his Aug. 31 letter to the medical society's president. Dr. Harold Springer, wrote, "I felt it would be disingenous of me as chairman to try to convince committee membership of the value of their contribution."

Woman receives eye operation free of charge

COLLINSVILLE (AP)--A thief who stole money a 75-year-old woman had saved for cataract surgery but thanks to the kindness of the local sheriff's department and an ophthalmologist, Hazel Justus will have the operation, the County Sheriff Mearl Justus and Dr. Morton Green have arranged a cataract operation, free of charge, for the Southern Illinois woman. "I'm so thankful. I don't know what to do," Bioham said Friday. "There are so many good people." On Aug. 4 a handyman Bioham had hired to help around the house allegedly stole $6,000 she had saved for the $1,400 cataract operation and other bills, authorities say.

Bipham, a widow for 17 years, said her only source of income is a monthly Social Security check for $358. "It doesn't go very far," she said. She was distraught until the kindness of strangers intervened. Justus said Sgt. Richard Scott, head of investigations for the sheriff's department, came up with the idea of arranging the operation. Justus then talked with jail physician Dr. Jonel Orlet, who contacted Green. Green has agreed to remove Bioham's cataracts at no cost to her. "I believe the Belleville area is certainly blessed with a lot of good doctors and this proves it," Justus said. The sheriff's department will provide the woman with transportation to and from the doctor's office, Justus said. Michael Warren, 25, of Collinsville, is charged with theft and is being held at the St. Clair County Jail in lieu of $60,000 bail bond. By the time sheriff's deputies had arrested Warren, he already had spent the money.

Bears stuff Colts 17-13

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Matt Suhey's touchdown run put the Chicago Bears ahead, and an interception by Vestee Jackson halted late Indianapolis drives as the Bears beat the Colts 17-13.

The Colts took a 13-10 lead on a 12-yard run by Eric Dickerson early in the final period, then drove to the Chicago 37 before Eric Dickerson fumbled with under six minutes remaining.

The Bears took over and worked the clock to 1:38 before a punt gave the Colts their last chance. But the first pass from quarterback Jack Trudeau was intercepted by Jackson and the Bears held the ball the rest of the game. Jackson also intercepted Trudeau's first pass of the first quarter, starting Chicago's first touchdown drive.

Of the fumble, Dickerson said: "I was going through the line. All of a sudden, I saw a foot coming up and I was kicked in the face. It was just one of those things. I never really had the ball."

"It was frustrating," Dickerson said. "We didn't generate that much offense. We didn't run the ball that well."

Chicago is 2-0. Indianapolis is 0-2.

Laura Bruce had 15 kills and 20

11 kills and two block solos while hitting .333.

"It was an extremely aggressive match. Our passing stayed real good and defensively we were working really hard to keep the ball alive," Ralston said.

Ralston was also pleased with the play of the bench which saw a lot of action between 8 a.m. and 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

"It was a real team effort," Ralston said. "It (bench play) will be a key to this year."

With the win over the Cardinals, the Panthers advanced to the semifinals to play Michigan State.

Eastern lost in a rather bizarre match which lasted two hours and 20 minutes by scores of 2-15, 2-15, 16-14, 15-9 and 9-15.

"This match was unique," Ralston said. "We had problems with bees in the gym, and before the third game Patti Frigo got stung in the side of the head."

Ralston also said that when the Panthers took the lead 5-3 in the third game, the net broke and had to be replaced.

Ralston said the few minutes of rest that the spikers received during the timeout for repairs on the net helped them to regroup after being blown out by the Spartans in the first two games.

"We weren't in the match at the start. They were hitting at will against us," Ralston said.

She said the team talked during the break about how hard they had played against Ball State to get to the semifinals, and how they didn't want to see that hard work wasted by being swept three straight by the Spartans.

Bruce led the way for the Panthers with 12 kills and 20 digs. Kruto had 11 kills and four service aces while Galanti posted nine kills and three service aces.
Sicher came close to her new assist record with 56 in the match.

The Panthers earned the fourth seed in the single elimination tournament by splitting with Miami of Ohio and the University of Indiana-Purdue at Fort Wayne on Friday.

On Saturday, Eastern swept Rutgers, Mankato State and Ferris State.

Soccer team downs Bradley squad 4-0

By AL LAGATTOLLA
Staff writer

For one half on Saturday, the young Bradley soccer team held their ground against Eastern's attack.

That all changed when the second half began.

The Panthers roared for three goals in the first five minutes of the second half to spur a 4-0 victory over the Braves in Eastern's home opener, bringing their season record to 2-1.

The Braves, in only their second season as a team sport, became Eastern's latest victim in the Panther's 11-game home unbeaten streak, during which the Panthers are 8-0-3.

"With the home crowd and home ballfield it definitely helps," said sophomore forward LeBaron Hollimon. "I'd like to say thanks to all the fans."

Hollimon scored the second goal of the game at 42:28 in the second half, the goal coming less than one minute after senior forward Mark Noffert put the Panthers ahead 1-0.

In little over a minute after that, junior forward Garry Laidlaw scored the Panther's third goal, assisted by Noffert.

The fourth goal was scored by senior fullback Brian Henn at 26:50 left in the game.

Panther coach Cizo Mosnia stressed patience in his half-time talk to his team.

The Panthers managed the shutout using two goaltenders.

Sophomore David Middleton started the game, but gave way to sophomore Mike Barclay with 12:50 remaining in the game.

"Middleton was making mental mistakes," said Mosnia. "We felt that Mike is better at making mental decisions."

Rich Kensek, a goalkeeper recruit from Brother Rice School in Chicago, remains in the show. Middleton and Barclay have been battling for the job.

The Panthers managed the shutout the Braves with injured junior fullback Muhr, who could have played.

Mosnia had to shuffle players to replace Muhr using Hollimon, who played forward position.

Men 10th, Mizener leads ladies

By PHIL CHAPARRO
Staff Writer

Eastern's men's and women's cross country teams hit the road this weekend, with the men traveling to the Cougar Invite at Southern Illinois-Edwardsville, and the women to Peoria for the Bradley Invitational.

The men finished 10th in a field of 17, and were led by freshman Scott Touchette who placed 47th overall at 28:19.

"We were a little disappointed with our finish as a team," Coach Tom Akers said. "The performance of our top three finishers was good though."

Sophomore Gary Brown was the Panthers second finisher taking 54th at 28:27, and freshman Brett Carlson placed 55th overall at a clip of 28:27.

The men were without the services of freshman Erik Baron and junior Shannon Hough. Both were out of action due to injuries and sorely missed last weekend.

"We were without our two top runners Baron and Hough," Akers said. "But we knew the course was rough so we played it safe with our injuries."

"We could have run them and probably finished higher, however, the men we ran with did a good job," Akers said.

Other finishers for the Panthers include: senior Tim Wons who took 57th at 28:40, junior Steve Conlon placed 59th at 28:43 and freshman Mike Stier finished 62nd at 28:46.

The Lady Panthers got a sneak preview of the course the Gateway Conference Championships will be run on, and were paced by sophomore Laurie Mizener who finished fourth in a field of 63 at 18:42.

Mizener, who broke the 19 minute mark for the first time in her collegiate career, shattered her personal best by a full 12 seconds.

"Laurie ran an outstanding race," coach John Craft said. "It was her best time ever and she really ran well."

Freshman Stefanie Stump competed in her first meet of the season and placed 12th overall at 19:37.

Stump, a highly-touted recruit from Peoria, has been injured and hasn't seen action this season.

"She ran a gutsy race," Craft said of Stump's performance. "She just started doing half workouts this week, and really did a good job."

Other finishers for the Lady Panthers include: senior Ann Body who placed 35th overall at 21:30, junior Connie Bierman took 38th at 21:44 and freshman Kathy Glynn took 48th at 22:25.

"They all improved their times," Craft said.

Eastern overwhelms Austin Peay 44-0

ROBB MONTGOMERY / Graphics editor

Eastern fullback John Sengstock (30) bulls his way forward in the Panthers 44-0 win over Austin Peay Saturday.

Offense rolls up 501 yards in victory

By MIKE FITZGERALD
Sports editor

The last train to Clarksville departed too late to save Austin Peay's football team from a 44-0 rout by the Panthers at O'Brien Stadium Saturday.

Eastern used an intimidating defense and a punishing running attack to win its 11th straight home opener by putting the game out of reach by the end of the third quarter.

"I'm very proud of our team," coach Bob Spoo said. "The play calling was excellent, and it created some big plays."

Eastern rolled up 501 yards in total offense, 312 coming on the ground. The Panthers' defense limited the Governors to 206 yards total offense, recorded seven sacks and forced four turnovers.

Even though Eastern had the game well in hand midway through the third quarter, and most of the second string players were playing, the rout could have been much worse.

The Panthers took the ball down the field with relative ease in the first quarter, but holding penalties and an Eric Arnold interception caused Eastern to settle for a Mike Turek field goal and a 3-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

"It was a little frustrating," said Arnold, who completed 8 of 16 passes for 93 yards in the first quarter. "We will overcome those next game and we'll do better."

"I was quite concerned there," Spoo said. "I think the reason we were productive were the penalties that kept moving us back."

Although Eastern's offense mustered only three points in a quarter in which it gained 141 yards total offense, the unit didn't get discouraged.

"At the end of the first quarter OB (center Sean O'Brien) came around and told us not to get down," said tailback Warren Pearson, who would score the Panthers' first two touchdowns of the game.

The Panthers' defense, like it had last weekend against Illinois State, made the big play and set up Eastern's first touchdown.

Defensive end Jim Sarver pounced on LeRoy Scott's fumble at the eight-yard line. Three plays later, Pearson, who finished with 65 yards rushing on nine carries, took it eight yards on the Statue of Liberty play for the first of his two touchdown runs in the quarter.

The Panther defense continued its domination throughout the quarter as linebacker Jeff Mills intercepted Bill Desmond's pass on the next Austin Peay series.

Five plays later, Pearson went over the right side for a touchdown.

If the first half belonged to freshman Warren Pearson, the second half belonged to senior James Marable.

Marable, who played with sore feet last weekend because of uncomfortable shoes, gained 81 yards in the second half and scored twice to finish with 122 yards on 18 carries for the game.

Marable's longest run, in his new shoes, came with 11:48 to play in the third quarter when he scampered 34 yards down the right side for a touchdown to put Eastern up 24-0.

He would later add a 3-yard touchdown run late in the third quarter to pad Eastern's lead further.

Marable said Pearson's two touchdown runs in the first half didn't put any pressure on him to produce.

"My job is basically to move the ball downfield," Marable said. "We score as a team."

Pearson agreed.

"He (Marable) set up a really good block for me on the Statue of Liberty play," Pearson said. "He recruited me, so I'm pushing him. We're real close and I look up to him."

Even the Panthers' special teams got into the act.

Last weekend, Daryl Holcombe took the opening kickoff 56 yards to set up Eastern's first score against the Redbirds.

This weekend he was at it again. Holcombe blocked a Jeff Buffaloe punt with 9:43 left in the third. Juan Cox picked the ball out of midair and ran 25 yards for the score.

"We told him (defensive coordinator John Smith) at half that we (Cox and Jeff Miles) were coming clean. It was a block left," said Cox.

Following that score, Turek squibbed a kick down to Austin Peay's 30 yard line. Spoo said it wasn't meant as an onside kick to pour salt in the Governors' wounds.

"We call it a drive kick," Spoo said. "He (Turek) is supposed to kick it as hard as he can down the field. He just caught it too high on the ball."

"It's unsportsmanlike to try to run up the score. We were very generous. We had a lot of our seconds in there."

The second stringers played most of the second half, and their contributions also played a role in Eastern's win.

Tailback Jamie Jones gained 69 yards on nine carries and scored on a 45-yard touchdown with 4:55 left in the fourth quarter.

Fullback Rick Labiak gained 31 yards on three carries and backup quarterback Kurt Simon was 2-2 for 23 yards.

Spoo said he was pleased that a lot of people got opportunities to play as well as the improvement in the pass protection of Arnold.

But Spoo thinks his Panthers can get better.

"I'm extremely happy for the win," Spoo said. "I can anticipate how good they might be yet."

"But we can't allow ourselves to be complacent now. We still have strides to make. If we mature as a team and stay close as a team, then I think we can go quite far."

It appears that other Gateway Conference schools either cleaned up on other schools or got their clocks cleaned by other schools this weekend.

Western Illinois demolished Grand Valley 55-0. Indiana State buried Salem 38-17 while Southwest Missouri State pounded on Missouri Southern 56-12.

The only Gateway school to lose was Illinois State. The Redbirds had their heads handed to them by Wake Forest 35-0.

Northern Iowa and Southern Illinois didn't play this weekend.

Defense still improving

Eastern's 44-0 victory over Austin Peay Saturday was the first shutout recorded by the Panther defense since a blowout against Winona State in the ninth game of the season.

According to junior defensive end John Jurkovic, the Panthers still have room for improvement.

"We're just starting to improve," Jurkovic said. "I would like to see we're only a quarter of the way up the mountain. Eventually we'll be a dominant defense."

Austin Peay found Eastern defenders to be plenty tough Saturday, as the Panthers were able to override the facets of the Governor's offense.

Eastern's defense limited Austin Peay's running attack, allowing just 33 rushing yards.

And while Governor's man quarterback Desmond collected 173 passing, the Panthers sacked him seven times for negative yards.

Jurkovic, who recorded four tackles (four for losses) in what downplayed Eastern dominance.

"It wasn't easy," Jurkovic said. "When (Desmond) has time to throw, you can't let him be a good quarterback. Glad we caught him as a man."

Saturday, Desmond was hurried and hurried, unable to move the Governors into a scoring position.

"A shutout is something personally wanted," defensive coordinator John Smith said. "It's the first I've been here. Our string players really made the second half and the job."

Preseason all-Gateway Conference defensive player Jeff Rolson also gave the Panther defense a boost, coming in early in the third quarter and preserved the shutout.

"The great thing about tonight was the play of the backups," Rolson said. "They came in and showed their talent."

Rolson, a 6-1, 265-pound senior, was in on eight tackles (four for losses) Saturday night.

Finally, Jurkovic played direct and accurate secondary on the important defensive shutout.

"Giving up zero points is always a goal," Jurkovic said. "If they don't score, we win. If they do, it's the worst you can be in."
